COMMUNIST FOES SEEN IN FULL CONTROL

Expected To Rule Both Houses of Parliament; Victory Is "Beyond Expectations."

By The Associated Press

ROME, April 20—Returns from three-fourths of Italy's senatorial districts today gave the American-backed Christian Democratic party almost half the total vote in the crucial election battle between Russia and the West.

Early returns on the chamber of deputies indicated a similar crushing defeat for the Communists. The returns raised the possibility that the anti-Communists had seized undisputed control of both houses of the new parliament.

The interior ministry's tabulations on the senate vote, counted first, gave the Christian Democrats 8,171,569, or 47.4 per cent of the vote. The Popular Front coalition of Communist and Left-Wing Socialists got 5,382,976 votes, or 31.3 per cent.

Returns from 4,478 of 41,525 sections in the vote for the chamber gave the Christian Democrats 2,131,608; the front, 936,207, and the anti-Communist Socialists, 269,393.

The votes for minor parties swelled the anti-Communist total.

Alcide de Gasperi, Italy's Christian Democratic premier, said the returns were beyond his fondest dreams.

The Communists had very little to say.

Pietro Ingrao, director of the Communist party newspaper, L'Unita, declared in a formal statement that the Communist-dominated popular front "without any doubt will represent a decisive element in the future parliament and in the country."

Beyond Expectations

De Gasperi's office issued a statement which said the backing given the Christian Democrats "is even greater than we could have hoped for."

The partial returns so far in, from both senatorial and chamber of deputies contests, showed the Christian Democrats running ahead of the Popular Front almost everywhere, even in the north, where the left has its greatest strength.

A ministry of interior communique issued at noon, referred to the "complete prevalence" of the Catholic party. Only a sharp reversal in the trend now can fulfill Communist hopes of winning Italy to the side of Russia at the ballot boxes.

An Associated Press tabulation of official chamber of deputy returns from 4,183 precincts of the 41,647 in the nation gave the Christian Democrats 1,334,198 votes for the front, almost two to one. The returns were scattered from north to south, all urban.

The anti-Communist Socialist wing, allied with the Christian Democrats in the government, was running third with 240,633 votes.

The chamber vote is considered a better guide to Italian political sentiments than the balloting for the senate, with its awkward, complicated method of election.

Miners See Issue Unsettled After Court Fines Lewis, UMW

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, April 20—Frank Hughes, president of the United Mine Workers district here, today declared fining of the union and John L. Lewis would not settle the issue.

"We'll just have to wait and see," he said, adding he thought the final answer would be given by the United States Supreme Court.

He made the comment after learning a federal court in Washington had fined Lewis $20,000 and the union $1,400,000 on criminal contempt of court charges.

First reaction of soft coal miners in the field to the fine imposed upon their union and its leader was that "we got a dirty deal."

This was the comment of Baldine DeMarco, 35, of Morgan, Pa., recording secretary of UMW local 2563.

He echoed the sentiments of several miners grouped around a radio in a community restaurant.

DeMarco added he "didn't know" what effect the fine would have on the miners return to work.

Sees Boost for Wallace

"It looks like Wallace for President," said one miner bitterly. "That's how I'm going to vote and I'm going to get lots more to vote with me."

"If the case had been thrown out of court when the pensions were granted we'de have been back 100 per cent right now," said DeMarco. "That's what this walkout was about. That's all we wanted. Lewis never called a strike. I'm recording secretary and the word strike is not mentioned in any correspondence to our local."

More than a fourth of the 400,000 soft coal miners were idle today in fresh walkouts stemming from the Lewis contempt conviction.

A representative of United Mine Worker district 5 in Pittsburgh expressed relief at the fine. "That wasn't so bad," he said, "not so bad."

Jail Sentence "Bad"

He added, "a jail sentence would have been bad. All the miners would have gone out and that's for sure."

William Hynes, president of UMW district four in the Uniontown, Pa., field, said miner reaction to the fine was "anybody's guess."

At Pottsville, Pa., Joseph Kershetsky, president of the United Mine Workers district 9, said today's fining of John L. Lewis and the UMW "is a Fascist and Nazi decision."

The head of one of the UMW's anthracite districts stated upon hearing of the Washington verdict:

"I think it is a Fascist and Nazi decision. That's what they did in Germany. They defeated the labor movement then went after the Jewish people and crucified them. I have no other comment to make."

Miners in 8 States Away from Work

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, April 20—Soft coal miners renewed their walkouts in at least eight states today although a majority remained on the job, awaiting word of John L. Lewis' fate in a Washington court.

All but a handful of Ohio's 20,000 coal miners were away from that state's deep shaft pits with the expressed attitude that:

"We won't mind so much if the court just fines Lewis, but they'll be a long time getting us back if he goes to jail."

The renewed walkouts, following Lewis' conviction of contempt of court, began on the afternoon shifts yesterday. Additional miners stayed at home last night, apparently waiting to see whether Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough would fine Lewis and the United Ine Workers as he did in 1946, or send the UMW chieftain to jail.

ITALIAN PLANES UP SCOUTING LEFTISTS

By The United Press

MILAN, April 20—Italian fighter planes were sent today to scout the strength of leftist partisans reportedly gathering south of the Po river.

Reports reaching the Italian military command here said the partisans were forming in the Pavia and Piacenza regions, where two of four attacks made against government arsenals since Saturday night have occurred.

Rumors were current that the Communists planned a violent attempt to take over the government soon, and it was pointed out that the strongly leftist Milan industrial region would be a logical starting point for such action.

None of the attacks on arsenals have been successful, but it was assumed they had a dual purpose, not only to seek to obtain more arms for leftist forces, but also to cut down the government's supplies.

The government of Premier Alcide De Gasperi has about 330,000 troops and police under arms, but there have been consistent reports that supplies of ammunition are short.

GROOM, 33 HORSES DIE IN BARN FIRE

By The Associated Press

BURRILLVILLE, R. I., April 20—At least one man and 33 valuable racing horses perished when fire swept four barns at the Pascoag race track early today.

The dead man was not immediately identified, but he was believed a groom at the track.

Panic broke out when the flames made headway as the grooms threw open the stable doors and the horses began running wildly.

Twenty-seven horses were dead in the ruins; four were burned so badly they had to be destroyed.

One horse ran blindly into a fire truck and was killed; another was killed when it ran into an automobile.

Hours after the fire started, some of the horses were still running wildly on the grounds.

The Pascoag track is used to house horses now competing in Lincoln Downs track nearby.

$20,000 Levied Against John L., Balance on Union

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 20—John L. Lewis escaped a jail sentence today but was fined $20,000 personally and his United Mine Workers $1,400,000 for contempt of court.

Judge T. Alan Goldsborough accepted a government recommendation for those fines, but said it had been his own inclination to send Lewis to jail.

The fines are just double what the bushy-browed UMW chief and his miners had to pay after they similarly were found guilty in 1946 of contempt for ignoring a court's stop-strike order.

Then Goldsborough fined Lewis $10,000 and the union $3,500,000, but the supreme court cut the union's fine to $700,000.

Also Considers Civil Contempt Fine

The fines Goldsborough imposed today were only for criminal contempt. The judge granted a government motion to consider a penalty for civil contempt against Lewis and the union on Friday.

Lewis and the union each were held guilty by the judge yesterday of both civil and criminal contempt.

Assistant Attorney General Graham Morison told reporters after the court hearing that the reason for delaying the civil contempt sentencing until Friday was to exercise a club over Lewis and the union to get all the miners back to work.

Possible Jail Penalty

He said another heavy fine—and even a jail penalty against Lewis—is possible if all the miners are not back at work by that time.

"The idea is to provide time to see what they will do by Friday," Morison said.

Asked specifically if the justice department may recommend jail for Lewis if part of the miners are still out Friday, Morison said.

"We might."

Immediately after Goldsborough acted, AFL President William Green issued a statement saying that punishment of labor or labor leaders for exercising the right to stop work "will cause resentment in the minds of those who are indirectly affected."

Green added:

"The best interests of the government would be served if its representatives would stop immediately their attempt to prosecute and punish the mine workers and their leaders and instead concentrate their efforts toward bringing about full production in sufficient volume to meet the maximum national needs."

During the entire court proceedings, Lewis sat stolidly, with scarcely a single motion.

Once or twice his heavy jowls twitched.

In civil contempt, penalties are usually based on damages done. So penalties are often fixed to increase if damages continue.

This might result in Goldsborough's imposing a daily penalty in event the miners do not work in protest against the criminal contempt fines.

Many were out of the mines today, waiting to see the outcome of the case.

Notice of Appeal Filed

Lewis' attorney, Welly K. Hopkins, filed notice of intention to appeal the contempt conviction. This was done right after sentence was imposed.

While Lewis sat stony-faced, Goldsborough told him in passing sentence:

"If this court was to use its individual judgment it would impose a prison sentence."

But the judge added he was only one man and was accepting the advice of the government.

Assistant Attorney General H. Graham Morison had recommended only the fines and said nothing about prison.

When he proposed them, Morison reminded the judge Lewis and the UMW were "second offenders."

Morison said the court should "discipline these defendants sufficiently to impress upon them permanently" that they must obey the courts.

Hopkins asked the judge to hold up the fines pending outcome of the appeals.

Morison objected and Goldsborough ruled "there is no reason the judgment should be stayed."

Then Hopkins said bond equal to the amount of the combined fines would be posted.

Goldsborough gave him until 10 a. m. tomorrow to do so.

Why He Passed Jail Decree

In deciding against sentencing Lewis to jail, Goldsborough commented: "The court is only one man and only the judgment of one individual. As I said yesterday, the government has access to more material.

"The court feels it should adopt recommendations of the government unless it shocks the conscience of the court.

"The court thinks all of that was covered by the court yesterday.

"The fine is assessed against the defendant union $1,400,000 and against the individual, $20,000."

Hopkins protested he knew of "no good purpose" for putting off the sentence on civil contempt until Friday.

Goldsborough said he didn't either. But he granted Morison's motion for the delay.

Presumably Morison, when making this suggestion, had in mind a wait-to-see what happens in the coal fields. Many miners walked out yesterday after the contempt finding.

There were threats of a full-fledged walkout if Lewis should be sent to jail.

Under civil contempt, it would be possible to impose a fine that increased with each day the mines were idle; a fine of $5,000 a day, for instance, for each day the miners stayed out.

Morison said, in presenting the government's recommendations, that the defendants (Lewis and the UMW) "have chosen to set themselves above the procedures of law and to disregard entirely a law of the United States and the mandate of this court issued pursuant to that law."

He said that Lewis and the union had "wilfully failed" to obey the April 3 court order.

Respect for this order must be enforced, Morison added, by "punishment sufficient to discipline the defendants and meet the standards of orderly judicial process."

Miners' Lawyer Protests

When Morison concluded, Welly K. Hopkins, the union's lawyer, told the judge such fines as the government suggested would inflict "grievous injuries" on the miners.

He said the penalties asked for "were without parallel."

Speaking for the miners, Hopkins said "I say to the government they are not second-rate citizens." He added:

"There's no caste system of untouchables—as yet."

Hopkins said the government harped repeatedly on the letter Lewis sent the mine operators Feb. 2 telling them the union reserved the right to take "independent action" because there had been no agreement on miner's pensions.

He asked: "Why does the government bear down so heavily on the message of Feb. 2 addressed not to the union but to the operators and made public by the operators?"

"The right of free speech existed on Feb. 2. The right of free speech existed on March 12." (March 12 was the date when Lewis messaged the miners their contract was "dishonored.")

Hopkins asked the court, "Who is there to say that on the morning of April 3 of this year that there was any violation of any law, when the defendants addressed a report to the men of this union?"

(Lewis sent a letter to the membership saying they were independent agents and free to continue idle. No strike had been called. Lewis reminded the 400,000 soft coal miners.)

Hopkins remarked "it was

TRUSTEE PLAN PUT BEFORE UN

U. S. Delegate Austin Submits General Principles, Without Troop Commitments.

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, April 20 — The United States today offered for United Nations consideration a 47-point trusteeship plan for Palestine.

There was no commitment of American troops. The document, labeled by American spokesmen as a group of suggestions and not a formal proposal, dodged a stand on who should maintain peace in the Holy Land.

Employing most of the previous informal United States suggestions, the plan said merely that a group of nations to be selected later should defend Palestine and keep order.

Is General Principle

Delegate Warren R. Austin presented the draft plan to the assembly's 58-nation political committee, which began consideration of the whole Palestine problem. The fate of the assembly's 1947 decision to partition the Holy Land will be decided during the debate.

The American document was a combination of 15 general principles put before the security council by Austin and the draft statute for the city of Jerusalem prepared by the UN trusteeship council. The plan was circulated privately to council members last week but Austin received clearance from Washington only yesterday for public presentation.

Could Hold Plebiscite

The trusteeship could be terminated by assembly agreement on a permanent plan of government or by successful plebiscite on a permanent plan. The vote could not be taken for at least three years. In theory, this would mean that partition could eventually be put into effect. However, Arab opposition to the splitup scheme is not expected to diminish.

The plan provides for a UN appointed governor-general with virtual dictator powers. He would rule the Holy Land with an advisory council until a trusteeship government could be set up.

Universal Cooler To Move Plant In Bellefontaine To Marion

Plans are now completed for moving Universal Cooler's plant at Bellefontaine to Marion, B. F. Raynes, assistant general manager of Universal Cooler Division of International Detrola Corporation announced today. The moving operation will be completed in May and means an additional 60 to 70 people will be added to Universal Cooler's payroll in Marion. To provide floor space for this machinery considerable remodeling at the Marion plant was necessary.

The Bellefontaine plant comprises a sheet metal shop, hydrogen brazing operation, punch press shop and complete facilities used in manufacturing the new Universal Cooler air cooled condenser.

To Make Own Stampings

Mr. Raynes added that the management of the plant intends to make sheet metal stampings in Marion which were formerly purchased from outside vendors. It is also planned to manufacture sheet metal stampings for the radio division of International Detrola Corp. Due to the fact that the radio requirements are heaviest in the fall of the year, these new parts to be manufactured in Marion will assist the Universal Cooler division in stabilizing the employment level in the Marion plant.

Install New Furnace

A new large electric hydrogen brazing furnace, one of the largest in this area, is presently being installed at Universal Cooler. The over all length is 102 feet including the cooling tunnel area. The new furnace will speed up the hydrogen brazing operations at the plant and enable still additional component parts of Universal Cooler condensing units to be completely manufactured here.

In announcing the plant changes, Mr. Raynes stated, "In making these changes we are integrating our operations. These moves will effect manufacturing economies for Universal Cooler."

Ohio Prison Guard Killed

Convict with Pilfered Knife Overpowered After Attack; Hurts 2 Others.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 20 — One guard was stabbed fatally and two others wounded seriously last night by a Negro convict who ran berserk inside Ohio penitentiary for 20 minutes.

The convict, John Thomas, 34, serving a 1-to-15 year term for a Montgomery county burglary, surrendered without resistance when rifle-carrying guards surrounded him in a dining room. He had escaped from the prison hospital's "strong ward." No shots were fired.

Walter W. Zimmer, 68, of Westerville, O., a guard since 1942, was killed and S. P. Chesshir, 54, and Frank C. Lower, 38, both of Columbus, were wounded. Acting Warden Ralph W. Alvis said doctors had given Chesshir a "fifty-fifty chance" to recover.

They were armed only with billy clubs because of regulations against firearms inside the mid-town penitentiary's slate-grey walls.

Thomas broke away from a guard shortly before 11 p. m. after being freed to empty his bed pan.

"He ran down the stairs into the dining room, where he grabbed a long knife," Warden R. V. Alvis reported. "After he got the knife, he ran through the kitchen and stabbed Chesshir, apparently without warning. Then he ran into the powerhouse, where he stabbed Zimmer, also apparently without warning.

"Lower also was stabbed while in the powerhouse," the warden added. "He is a yard man and apparently he ran in to aid Zimmer. From there Thomas ran back into the dining room.

"We caught him with searchlights from the towers huddling behind a coffee urn. He offered no resistance when armed guards entered the room and ordered him to 'surrender.'"

There were no witnesses to the stabbings, and neither Chesshir nor Lower could tell their story immediately.

Alvis said Thomas entered the prison Sept. 7, 1937, and would have been eligible for parole "long ago" except for the fact he was regarded as a "problem case." He was undergoing psychiatric treatment in the hospital, the warden added.

FEW CAST ABSENT BALLOTS IN PRIMARY

Only 19 File Applications To Vote to Date.

Despite the relaxation in regulation governing absentee voting, pre-primary activity by voters who will be away from their home precinct May 4 has been slight to date, local election board officials declared today.

Absentee voters have until 6:30 p. m. April 29 to make application. To date only 19 persons have cast their ballot and approximately 50 more have made applications.

This year voters who will be no further away from home than 10 miles are eligible to apply for an absentee voter's ballot, as the legislature last year amended the statute which previously set a minimum of 50 miles on the distance away from home to be eligible for absentee voting.

The local office will be open until 5 p. m. Saturday of this week for those who will be unable to be home to vote May 4, and for those who are disabled and unable to go to the polls personally.

Absentee voting at the primary usually totals not more than 200 to 200, with figures recorded as high as 1,000 for the general elections in the fall, officials reported.

The usual last minute rush is being anticipated this year as residents seek to exercise their voting privilege. Those constituting the majority of absentee voters include railroad men, salesmen and college students in approximately that order. Two servicemen have already sent in their ballots.

Donation Voted At Auxiliary Meeting

Donations to the national auxiliary home for Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen auxiliaries, Lake Crest villa at Evanston, Ind., and to the cancer fund drive were made at a meeting of Whitney Lodge No. 846 Thursday night. The meeting was held in the American Legion Dugout. A quarterly social committee appointed includes Mrs. Harriet Augenstine, Mrs Mary V. Rosser, Mrs. Lela Zahn, Mrs. Doris Shuster, and Mrs. Lelah Wormell. Dr. Robert Campbell was elected as second medical examiner. Mrs. Margaret Carder was elected vice president, and Mrs. Florence Stumbo, secretary, to fill vacancies made by resignations. Representatives of the local auxiliary plan to attend the fourth Ohio state meeting in Cleveland in October. For the next meeting, a committee composed of Mrs. Julia Gandert, Mrs. Florence Finley, Mrs. Mary Eldridge, Mrs. Dolores Freshour and Mrs. Mildred Gussaway will serve lunch.

Roving Reports

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

THE girl on the magazine cover is getting shorter and rounder.

"When I came into this business 10 years ago, said Harry Conover, who operates a model agency, "the ideal cover girl was five feet eight inches tall and weighed 115 to 118 pounds.

"She had a 22-inch waist, 33-inch bosom and 33-inch hips.

"Today the cover girl is an inch shorter, weighs up to 120 pounds and has a 24 waist, 34 bosom and 34½ hips."

Hal Boyle

His agency stocks beautiful girls on a mass production basis. He has a current inventory of more than 200 photographic and fashion models, and adds about 10 new faces a week as old ones drop out of the game.

Huckstering beauty is a finely developed art as well as a profitable business. One of Conover's contributions has been the invention of catchy names for his products—Melody Johnson, Choo Choo Johnson, Jinx Falkenburg, Candy Jones.

Some time ago he changed Miss Jones name again—to Conover. They have a son now. They named the little fellow Jones Conover.

Conover, an ex-model who at 37 is getting somewhat rounder himself, believes television will create a new boom field for models and save movie talent scouts a lot of trouble.

"They'll be able to look over the crop by just twitching on their television sets," he said. "It'll even save them the cost of making screen tests."

TEEN AGE MODELS are having a "terrific vogue" now and account for 50 per cent of his agency's business.

"But our teen agers all want to get that sophisticated grownup look," complained Conover pleasantly, "whereas they can make more money by staying young and fresh-looking. Nothing kills off a model quicker than getting a professional look.

"A girl is old and decrepit in this business at 24 or 25. It eats them up. But if a model is the bored, high fashion type she can go on indefinitely—to 35 or more."

These are the semi-emaciated ladies with a face as expressionless as a catcher's mask who grace the pages of the four-bit fashion magazines.

Conover stresses to his girls that modeling is a short-term career and should be used only as a calling card or stepping stone to some other field—such as movies, the radio or fashion promotion.

"IT TAKES US a year and a half to get a girl out of her cocoon," he said. "Pushing a new girl is like pushing a truck. It's hard to get up momentum.

"And after she begins hitting the covers she is usually good for only three or four years at top prices. Her face gets too well known.

Of the 750 or more professional models in New York City Conover estimates only about 75 get the top rate—now $25 an hour, although it climbed to $50 during the war. A girl in this bracket may make from $500 to $750 a week but is lucky to average $350—while it lasts.

About 300 other girls average $125 to $150 a week. The rest make less. Minimum hourly rate for a Conover model—$7.50.

"It's bad when a girl lets modeling become a religion—when she thinks the whole world is waiting to see her face on next month's cover," said Conover. "Because that just isn't true. When a model gets the idea she is the only one—there's nothing you can do with her."

CONOVER WANDERS around among his long-stemmed beauties like an absent-minded zoology professor wading in a frog pond. He has learned to be impersonal with them because he has learned that temperament goes with beauty.

"If I were a plumber," he said philosophically, "I suppose I'd get just as tired of looking at brass pipes, too."

COMMITTEES NAMED BY JUDSON CIRCLE

Committees were appointed at a meeting of the Judson circle of Trinity Baptist church Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. D. A. Neff on the Upper Sandusky road. Mrs. Harry Francis, new president, made the committee appointments including Mrs. Floyd Jenkins, devotions; Mrs. Herbert Brewer, literature; Mrs. Neff, work; Mrs. Edwin Brewer, tax stamps; Mrs. Wayne Mitchell, Cards; Miss Marguerite Shoots, friendship; and Mrs. Peters, reporter. It was announced that the Woman's society meeting will be held April 22 at the church, with a potluck snupper at 6:30 p. m. The work hour included rolling of bandages, sewing carpet rags and counting tax stamps. Mrs. Willis Mohler assisted in serving. Guests were Mrs. Holloway, Mrs. George Wingett, Mrs. Mohler and Julia Brewer. The next circle meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. D. W. Hinamon on the Bucyrus pike.

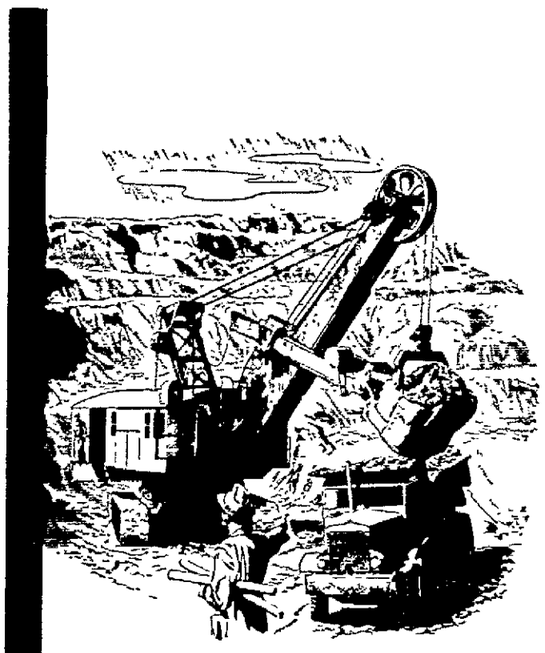
It Takes Ore to Make the Steel You Use



and PROFITS to keep mines running

It takes vast amounts of expensive equipment and machinery to keep iron ore moving smoothly to the blast furnaces.

It also takes a lot of money.

It is a man-sized job for the profit dollar.

But the profit dollar doesn't have the strength it used to have.

For the cost of new mining machinery, replacement and maintenance has gone up. And as those costs have gone up, the purchasing power of the profit dollar has dropped.

For example, today's profit dollar buys only 58 cents' worth of electric ore shovel compared with 1938.

Steel profits averaged 6.3 cents on the sales dollar last year.

Steel profits last year averaged 9.4 cents per dollar of investment.

Steel profits are too low when measured against the cost of continuing efficiency.

Her Twenty-Second Birthday Comes To Princess Elizabeth

LONDON, April 20 — Princess Elizabeth turns a wifely 22 today after a year of exciting milestones.

In these last 12 months she has come of age, become engaged, married, and started the adventure of life on her own. By the end of this year she may be a mother. Only a royal family announcement canceling her engagement, however, will settle whether that is speculation or fact.

Elizabeth's twenty-first birthday came at the windup of the first arduous 10,000-mile royal tour of South Africa and Rhodesia—her first trip overseas. Ahead of her now lie a brief May-time trip, with her husband Prince Philip, to Paris, and—another first—the big chance to rule the empire for several months.

That will be made possible by her expected appointment as chief councillor of state while her parents and Princess Margaret tour Australia and New Zealand.

All who know the princess agree she has weathered this crucial year triumphantly. She remains friendly, poised, eager. She has kept her head. Her reserve is still there and a certain diffidence, which sometimes is mistaken for sulkiness.

Despite the crowded calendar of her personal life, with its thrills and uprootings, the princess has steadily piled on new public duties. More mature now, and conscious that the postwar world has the jitters, she is determined to find out—first hand whenever possible—what makes the empire run and what is wrong with so many things.

None more than she realizes this must be essential training for the throne.

She and Philip have moved from Kensington palace to Windlesham Moor, their country home in Surrey.

Although Elizabeth has little time at the moment for housework, she knows how food should be cooked and served, how to make a bed properly, and a good deal about interior decoration.

Like other members of the royal family, she prefers plain to fancy cooking, and light, quick meals to banquets. She doesn't smoke, rarely drinks, and when she does it is a weak cocktail or a bit of champagne.

Conservative is the word for most of her tastes. She dislikes fancy wallpaper, brilliant paints, modern furniture and too highly decorated furnishings. Favored instead are pastel walls and period furniture—Adam, Sheraton, Hepplewhite — of darker hues.

She has taken the lead herself in decorating and furnishing her new home. Workers find her a knowing boss.

Cites Family Strength

Manifestly she feels a greater sense of freedom since her marriage, finds it fun to remake Windlesham as she and Philip desire it.

She sets great store by the home—and by that she means having children.

"The strength of our country—of any great country—lies in the home and the family," she says.

ASHLEY AND DELAWARE STUDENTS IN OWU PLAYS

Students from Ashley and Delaware Willis High schools, in addition to students from Columbus Central, Port Clinton, Sylvania and Zanesville, will present two scenes from Shakespeare in plays at programs scheduled for 2 p. m. Friday and 10 a. m. Saturday in the Willis High school auditorium at Delaware.

The scenes will be presented in conjunction with the Ohio Wesleyan university speech department in the eighth annual Shakespeake festival, commemorating the great bard's birthday. Dr. Elden T. Smith, head of the Bowling Green university speech department, will be guest critic. The celebration will be highlighted by the Wesleyan Players' presentation of "The Taming the Shrew." Friday the high school students will be guests at the evening performance of the Wesleyan production.

"The Taming of the Shrew" also will be staged Thursday and Saturday evening at 8:15 in Willis High school auditorium. The play has been condensed for rapid action and will be presented in a modified Elizabethan setting, built especially for the three campus presentations and the summer tour, which will last from July 19 to 26.

Four from Marion In Auto Accident

Four Marion residents were involved in a three-car collision Saturday noon in Cleveland while on their way to spend the week-end with relatives in Cleveland. They are Paul Geckle, Elton Kates, his wife, Mrs. Delma Kates, and their 11-month-old daughter, Myrna, all of 231 Reed avenue.

According to word received here by Mrs. M. E. Kates of 415 Uncapher avenue, mother of Mr. Kates, both Mr. and Mrs. Kates are in the Glenville hospital in Cleveland. Mrs. Kates suffered a splintered shoulder, dislocated jaw and bruises, and Mr. Kates is suffering from possible internal injuries. Mr. Geckle, driver of the car, was treated at the hospital and released Sunday. The baby was not injured.

They left here Saturday morning and were going to visit Mr. and Mrs. Frank Loyer and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Loyer in Cleveland.

KING'S DAUGHTERS MEET WITH MRS. ROBINSON

Mrs. Maude Robinson was hostess for a recent meeting of Circle of Light, King's Daughters, in her home on Summit street. A nominating committee appointed includes Mrs. Mildred Foster, Mrs. Florence Tennis, and Mrs. Lucille Smith. A report was given of 25¼ hours of service donated including help with Red Cross and cancer fund drives, and 46 sick calls were reported made. Mrs. Adah Severns presented a Bible story, and she was in charge of a contest prepared by Mrs. Smith. Mrs. Jessie Ellery and Mrs. Marguerite Eaton assisted in serving. It was announced that a work meeting will be held at the Maplecrest home in Bucyrus April 27. The next regular meeting of the circle will be held in the home of Mrs. Louise Fogle of Nunin court.

Get Welcome Relief From Stomach Gas, Sour Food Taste

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal? If so, here is how you may rid yourself of this nervous distress. Thousands have found it the way to be well, cheerful and happy again.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. MONSANTO HEAD HAS PLAN OF DEFERMENTS

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 20 — Recommendations to insure deferment of essential scientists and technologists in proposed selective service legislation were presented to the house committee on armed services today by Dr. Charles Allen Thomas of St. Louis, president of the American Chemical society and executive vice-president of the Monsanto Chemical company.

Dr. Thomas stated that he represented the second largest scientific and professional society in the world, numbering more than 100,000 professional chemists and chemical engineers. He added that his remarks were equally pertinent to members of other technologies.

Dr. Thomas amplified his proposals made to the senate armed services committee April 2, and further recommended the deferment of university scientists engaged in teaching and research, and the ferment of a limited quota of promising scientific and engineering students.

Shortage of Personnel

Dr. Thomas also urged the creation of a National Scientific Appeal board of civilians with recognized scientific background to decide appeals on deferments of essential scientists.

Stating that there is an alarming shortage of scientific personnel, Dr. Thomas said that vitally urgent research work of a direct military character is stymied at this very moment.

"Time and again," he said, "we are requested by the armed services to assist them through chemical society journals and our employment clearing houses in staffing civilian and military research projects, only to find that highly qualified scientific and technological personnel are not available in anything like the numbers required."

Would Prevent Job Drain

Dr. Thomas explained that the language of the proposed selective service bill was too broad. He urged that the deferment policy be spelled out so that administrative regulations would be in accord with the will of congress. He also urged a properly worded law which would prevent the drain of thousands of young scientists and technologists who in the last war, rushed into the armed services in their haste to avoid being considered slackers.

(The Monsanto Chemical Co. has leased a part of the Scioto Ordnance site north of Marion, and will operate an atomic research plant under authority of the federal atomic energy commission.

C. & O. Runs at Profit Despite Mine Strike

CLEVELAND, April 20 — Normally operating at a deficit when coal mining operations cease for any extended period, the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway company today reported that although the coal mines were closed throughout the second half of the month, it earned net income of $705,086, or 8 cents per common share, in March 1948. Coal loadings totaled only 65,631 cars in March, 1948, compared to 122,146 cars in March, 1947, when net income amounted to $4,166,709, or 53 cents a share. Loadings of all freight were off 24.6 per cent and operating revenues were off 13.1 per cent.

The cessation of mining operations in March and the unusually severe weather conditions prevailing throughout the C. & O. territory in January and February held net income for the first quarter of 1948 down to $4,388,380, equal to 54 cents per common share, compared to $11,048,799, or $1.39 a share in the first quarter of 1947.

Chronic Contempt

JUSTICE T. ALAN GOLDSBOROUGH of the U.S. district court for the District of Columbia again has found John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers guilty of civil and criminal contempt of court for disobeying an injunction order against a work stoppage.

Again the fundamental issue between the court and the United Mine Workers is the latter's curious claim that its members have no collective responsibility for their collective decisions. Mr. Lewis, his advisers and the powerful union that holds a virtual monopoly of labor in the soft coal industry take the position that society should give them all the privileges of collective bargaining without expecting them to bear collective responsibility if they break the law.

If Mr. Lewis and his union have given the matter no thought before, they should consider the implications of an attitude of chronic contempt for the courts and, beyond the courts, for the people whose laws are administered and upheld in the courts. They are on the verge of becoming known as habitual offenders against the public welfare of the United States.

Their leadership has brought to soft coal miners the advantages and responsibilities of a near-monopoly in a key industry. This has been done under the sanction of a friendly government and a sympathetic public interested in raising the living standards of miners. It was assumed, perhaps unwisely, that organized miners would accept collective responsibility if given collective privileges. Mr. Lewis has gone out of his way twice in the last year and a half to demonstrate that he believes his union feels no collective responsibility. Justice Goldsborough, ruling in behalf of the government, has asserted twice that the union does have collective responsibility. No other decision would make any sense. A labor union without collective responsibility would have no claim on the people's support. It would be a lawless minority.

Italy Was Serious

THE high proportion of Italians eligible to vote that turned out at the polls is an ironic rebuke to the United States. At least Italy takes its right of franchise seriously.

In an election over the issue of Russian domination of Italian politics, with the United States offering its political system and moral support as the more desirable alternative, more than 90 per cent of the voters registered their opinions in many districts; it's likely the national average will run close to 90 per cent.

In 1940, the potential voting population of the United States was 79,863,451. The vote for the presidential candidates of the two major parties reached an all-time high of 49,547,000—or a little more than 62 per cent. A 90 per cent turnout of voters on election day in the United States in 1940 would have been close to 72,000,000.

Who Killed Gaitan?

THE key to the revolution in Colombia can be found in the answer to the question, "Who killed Jorge Gaitan?" After the left-wing leader's assassination, the killer was himself slain and his body mutilated, whether by design or fury, so that his identity will never be known. The events immediately following his death, including simultaneous disturbances in other cities, indicate it was part of a planned revolt.

A writer for the Communist New York Daily Worker observes, "The Communists had no love for Gaitan and feared his demagogic tendencies. But they recognized him as a man with a mass following who was playing a progressive role within his limitations." The Worker's writer hazards three guesses as to who shot Gaitan, a disgruntled law client, a Conservative or a Liberal.

He makes an important omission. Assassination of a man with a large personal following was the spark needed to touch off the violence that disrupted the inter-American conference and discredited the Colombian government. The Communists stood to gain most by Gaitan's assassination. Their air of innocence doesn't remove their Colombian conferees from the top of the suspect list.

Lots of Business, No Profit

THE annual reports of America's airlines show 1947 was a banner year for miles traveled, mail hauled and passengers carried. While rail and bus passenger revenues declined, airline figures reached new highs

But despite these bullish statistics and some rate increases, more lines finished in the red than out of it. Costs increased, as they have in every business, and the transition to newer aircraft continued to be a heavy financial burden.

The airline network might be compared to the railroads in their early days when optimism was unbounded and there was over-expansion. Unprofitable rail mileage subsequently had to be abandoned, a process that continues to this day. Airlines also will have to go through this adjustment process, during which rates will be brought into line with expenditures and unprofitable routes curtailed or abandoned.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Some Costly Concessions Made to Russia.

GOEBBELS wrote in his diary: ". . . This war was started because of a midget state; but now (SIC), when it has reached the decisive culminating point, such states allegedly have no right to exist any more. All fundamental conceptions of how nations are to live together seem upside down in this wild spiritual and political confusion. Therein lies our great chance."

SOKOLSKY

The midget nation to which the Nazi chieftain referred was Poland, a country of 150,470 square miles, with 34,770,000 human beings. Suppose it were smaller; suppose the population were smaller—do those people not have an inalienable right to a government of their own choosing? The United States failed to answer that question affirmatively at Teheran, Yalta and Potsdam. And so Poland has gone out of existence, having become a mere province of Soviet Russia.

The principal loser in that error of judgment is not Poland; it is the United States. When the president of the United States is worried by the prospect of war, he faces the specter of unforgivable errors made by his predecessor, his advisers and associates who were guided neither by moral principles nor by international law but by the whims and practicalities that come to them. Therefore, we lost a war and may be forced by circumstances to do it over again.

Comments by Stimson

Henry L. Stimson, in his memoirs, published in the "Ladies Home Journal," says of this:

". . . Much of the policy of the United States toward Russia, from Teheran to Potsdam, was dominated by the eagerness of the Americans to secure a firm Russian commitment to enter the Pacific war. And at Potsdam there were Americans who thought still in terms of securing Russia's help in the Pacific war. Stimson . . . was disturbed to find that a part of the Russian price was a Soviet lease of Port Arthur and Soviet participation with the Chinese in the control of the Manchurian railways. This agreement was accompanied by a Russian promise to leave the Chinese in full control of Manchuria, but in the light of the Polish situation Russian promises of this character no longer seemed reliable . . .

"Blackmail" Permitted

In a word, those in charge of our war in the Far East were not capable of appraising our capacity to fight or win. They permitted this country to be blackmailed by an enemy, disguised as an ally, who made such demands as we had rejected from the day of the John Hay open door policy in 1899 to the Hull ultimatum of Nov. 26, 1941. We went to war with Japan over Manchuria, but at Yalta, Roosevelt agreed to authorize Russia to exercise the very rights in Manchuria which had brought on Pearl Harbor.

Therefore, we lost the far eastern war, for whereas we pushed the Japanese out of Manchuria, we pushed the Russians into it. They were engaged in the far eastern war for six days; yet out of it they received Manchuria, half of Korea, membership in the council which pretends to control General MacArthur, and the stores of the Kuantung army, the best equipped of the Japanese military forces, which they have presented to the Chinese communists for the purpose of conquering the whole of China.

Setting the Responsibility

Because of these errors, we may have to do the far eastern war over again at huge cost of life and wealth. The responsibility for these errors cannot be shirked either by those who made them or their apologists. For should this American civilization fall, it will be because its representatives at Teheran, Yalta and Potsdam were without either moral responsibility or respect for this country's international obligations.

So we are in peril of war and we need to know the truth. Yet, Professor Frederick Schuman of Williams college, writing in "Soviet Russia Today," makes the point, with regard to the publication by the state department of the documents relating to the Stalin-Hitler alliance,

". . . What is entirely without precedent, so far as I can discover, is the publication of documents from the archives of a vanquished enemy for the purpose of defaming a recent ally . . ."

In a word, the American people may only pay taxes for war; they may only die for their country—but under no circumstances are they to know the truth.

Foxhole vs. Valley Forge

Modern War's Hardships Called Greater.

THE barefoot, hungry heroes of the American Revolution had a cakewalk compared to the living conditions of the front-line GI of World War II, according to Harvard Prof. Samuel Eliot Morison, Pulitzer prize winner and official navy historian. He said he wasn't including the hazards of modern shot and shell in making the comparison.

Not bullets, he said. Just heat, cold, fatigue, mud and hunger.

"The worst conditions of the Revolution—even the terrible Valley Forge winter—didn't compare with the mountains of Italy or the jungles of Burma and Guadalcanal," he said.

"Not that the stalwarts with the spirit of '76 had any gravy train, he explained. GI uniforms in the Yankee Doodle days were drafty at best. Shoes were about as plentiful as year-long furloughs.

"But the campaigns in the revolution were not so gruelling as those in the last war," he said. "Revolutionary soldiers didn't have to face hardships over such long periods and they could steal pigs and chickens when their stomachs were empty."

Chickens were scarce in the Pacific, he said. Also pigs.

"The World War II soldier was dependent upon the quartermaster for food," he added. "He couldn't live off the country when fighting in mountains and jungles. If the food didn't get to the doughboys—they just didn't eat."

Of course, he said, the armchair and rear echelon soldiers of World War II—while they contributed greatly to victory—fought a comparatively comfortable war. Generals in the powdered fig area had no jeeps and such, which made the behind-the-lines war tougher then.

Modern sails, he said, had smoother sailing than the crews that manned the wooden craft of the colonies.

"Living conditions were much better for the navy in World War II," he said. "Quarters were better. Food and clothing were better. There were no drinking water problem in the last war."

There was no true yardstick for courage, he said. It's hard to tell who would hold his foxhole longest—a Minute Man or a 20th century marine. But the old timers had no more endurance, he said.

The Revolutionary soldiers carried heavier loads of weapons and ammunition," he said, "but when it comes to endurance the modern fighting man can hold his own.

UN Publishes Soil Study

U. S. Waste of Land Called "Unequalled.

THE United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization terms American waste of forests and arable land "perhaps unequaled in human history." This reference occurs in a 189-page book just issued by F A O. It is titled "Soil Conservation: An International Study." Its purpose is to help member nations set up conservation programs.

According to the book, the U.S. National Resources Board estimates the American soil annually loses 2,500,000 tons of topsoil through harvesting and grazing, in addition to almost 3,000,000 tons by erosion. In China, the Yellow river alone carries off enough soil annually to cover 385,000 acres to a depth of 36 inches.

"The problems of soil conservation are worldwide," the book notes. "They are particularly acute in India where, as in China, there is tremendous pressure of population on national resources perhaps even more meager: in the Mediterranean region of Europe and the Near East, where centuries of human occupation and the nature of the climate and land have favored soil erosion; in Latin America, where many countries with dense populations have rapidly eroding lands; and in south Africa and Australia, where conditions and problems and the history of occupation are similar to those of parts of the United States."

The book emphasizes the relationship of a nation's mountains and forests to its farmlands. "It is a dangerous and, indeed, fatal delusion," it notes, "to imagine that the prime essential of land use—for food production—can survive unless government and farmer alike give jealous attention to the non-farmlands which support or destroy farm enterprise."

The volume outlines more than a score of conservation measures, such as crop rotation, shallow plowing, pit cultivation, mulching and contour plowing. Also discussed are range and forest lands, and national conservation programs.

A Play for the Bleacher Vote?

The major league baseball season got under way yesterday.

Comes now the annual increase in the casualty rate of grandmothers.

Baseball, next to buck-passing, is the nation's favorite game.

In Washington, President Truman threw out the first ball officially to open the season. The President was visibly nervous. After all, this may be his last year in the majors.

Certainly it didn't help his control any to know the Republicans have a man warming up in the bull-pen.

Truman did all right for a man without much practice. After all, he hasn't been able to get congress to play ball with him.

Incidentally, Hurling Harry used his right arm. Apparently, he hasn't much confidence in the left wing anymore.

Words of the Wise

Bogota Incident Appraised

By Walter Lippmann

AFTER testifying in a secret session of a congressional committee, Admiral Hillenkoetter, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, allowed himself to be interviewed in order to show that he had warned the State department of the Bogota uprising. This would not have been edifying even if the admiral had proved his case. But in fact his own evidence disproves his case.

The key intelligence dispatch, dated March 23, which he says was withheld from the State department by a representative of the department in Bogota said: "Have confirmed that Communist-inspired agitators will attempt to humiliate the secretary of state and other members of the United States delegation to the Pan-American conference upon arrival in Bogota by manifestations and possible personal molestation."

LIPPMANN

This was in no sense a warning of what happened in Bogota. No attempt was made to humiliate the secretary of state; there were no manifestations against the secretary of state upon his arrival in Bogota and he has not been subjected to personal molestation.

The fact is that what Admiral Hillenkoetter predicted did not happen, and what did happen was not predicted by Admiral Hillenkoetter.

A "warning" that Secretary Marshall was going to be molested can hardly be construed as a warning that there was going to be an uprising against the Colombia government.

It was like the warning that there was going to be Japanese sabotage at Pearl Harbor: which led Gen. Short to take measures against something which did not happen rather than against that which actually did happen.

It seems reasonably certain, not only from the uprising in Colombia but from the condition of the conference before it was interrupted, that the administration, though it had warning of trouble, had not made a successful diagnosis of the trouble. It seems to have fixed its attention on the "Communist-inspired agitators," and not on the deep and violent popular unrest which was boiling up just under the surface.

The Real Task

The crucial and difficult part of intelligence work is not in spying, and the collection of secret information. It is in the appraisal of the information, most of it not secret at all. The first installment of Mr. Churchill's memoirs in Life magazine is worth studying in this connection. There is a passage in which Mr. Churchill tells us how during the years 1931-34, when he was out of office, he managed nevertheless to appraise far more accurately than the government in office what was happening in Nazi Germany.

During those years he worked closely with three men. One was Prof. Frederick Lindemann, later Lord Cherwell, with Desmond Morton, who was in the British Intelligence and with Ralph Wigram, "then the rising star of the foreign office and in the center of all its affairs."

Mr. Churchill had access to the same information, scientific, intelligence, and diplomatic, as the government. He did not know any more than did the prime minister and the government. Yet he understood what he knew and drew the right conclusions whereas they did not understand and drew the distastrously wrong conclusions.

The moral of this story is that while an intelligence agency can serve a government, it is not a device for relieving statesmen of the task of judging correctly and wisely the course of events. It is a mistake to expect, and foolish of Admiral Hillenkoetter to talk as if we had a right to expect, the Central Intelligence Agency to appraise the situation in Colombia and South America. That was the business of the President and Admiral Leahy, of Secretary Marshall and Mr. Armour, after they had studied Admiral Hillenkoetter's reports and the State department's reports. To suppose that an intelligence agency can make these final judgments is in effect to say that the intelligence agency could be not only the eyes and the ears, but also the brains of the government.

There never was, and there never will be, such an intelligence agency.

The aftermath of the Bogota explosion shows that it could not have been easy to foresee. For even by hindsight there is as yet no convincing and consistent story of what happened. That may be due in large measure to the censorship. But I suspect it may also be due to something else, something subtler and more misleading.

That something else is the very human propensity to insist on making the facts fit one's stereotyped preconceptions—in this case to treat a South American revolution as a phase of the Russian revolution, and then to suppose that all revolutionary conditions in the world begin and end in Moscow, that but for Moscow there would be no revolutions.

Daily Bible Thought

Barbarians regard strangers as enemies and treat them accordingly. Civilized people look on foreigners as God's children and entitled to courtesy and kindness.—He. 13:2: "Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby some have entertained angels unawares."

Magazines

By TRUMAN TWILL

In connection with spring housecleaning a the joys thereof—wallpaper cleaner in the and soap in the food—something should be about the magazines.

The man of the house comes home from hard day's work and is confronted by a me acing finger on the end of an arm attached tired female housecleaner who wants to kn how much longer she is expected to ke "these"—meaning a pile of magazines the po fellow has been saving for long winter ev nings.

It is pointed out to him that the long win evenings are over and coming up are the sh summer evenings, so what is the sense of savi a lot of stuff he will never read? He is advis strongly to do something about the magazin such as throwing them away.

Up to this point there is nothing unusu about the situation at all. It is something th happens to every man every spring, and, everybody knows, he is expected to put up beef about it, then sit down to sort out magazines and end up by finding that none them can be thrown away. That is the way always is in the comic strips.

This column, however, is for the purpose suggesting a better way to handle the situatio Instead of doing what a man is expected do, the better way is to do what a man is n expected to do and speak up in his own beha "I know I am a trial. I fully realize that m weakness for storing up old magazines is hardship greater than any mere woman can expected to bear without cracking under t strain. It is obvious that no man should be m considerate enough to use up the cubic conte of a dwelling place to save a few old magazine thereby robbing his womenfolk of space neede to store old hats, wisps of cloth, scraps of t garments that have gone out of style, kitche and household implements that are never use doo-dads and gimcracks that are useless, disa with nothing but sentimental value and a truc load of beat-up furniture that should have bee taken out of the attic and burned during t Coolidge administration. It is downright inco siderate of a mere man to believe a few cub feet of his own house should be wasted w evidence of his foibles. I do hereby give my f consent to part with all old magazines and a other clutter I may have caused on the premis and promise never to take up any more spa in the future than may be occupied by my ow self and my few meager belongings."

You'll lose the magazines, Mister, but t will be telling 'em, won't it?

NEW POWDER A BOON TO HEART PATIENTS

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

CHICAGO, April 20—A new [illegible] powder promises many [illegible] disease patients the boon of again eating foods with salt, [illegible] scientists reported today.

The powder is swallowed with [illegible] like medicine. It then removes salt from food passing through the intestine. Dr. I. J. Greenblatt of Beth-El hospital, Brooklyn, and M. E. Gilwood of the Permutit company, New York, told the American Chemical society [illegible] national meeting.

It has been used successfully, they said, on some persons who otherwise could not eat salted foods. These patients had heart illnesses marked by dropsy, excess water in body tissues and swelling of the joints. Salt aggravates this condition, so they had been put on diets almost entirely free of salt. The diet is tasteless, and boring.

Patients taking three tablespoons of the powder before and after each meal have been able to eliminate some of the excessive water without restricted diets or medicine, they said. The treatment still is being studied, Dr. Greenblatt stressed.

The plastic has been named Permutit Z. Dr. Greenblatt got the idea for the method during the war when the same kind of principle was used in airplane and ship emergency kits to take salt out of seawater.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

NOT for the first time did my fingers itch to box the royal ears of Georges, fugitive king of Trees. It was so clear to me, the thought that was scudding around his brain. My chance remark had rearoused his desire to see our niece, Mary Veritzen, the woman to whom he once had been betrothed, sometime during the peparations for his wedding to exiled Princess Olina, of Transvania.

However, I acquitted him of any real romantic interest in Mary. His pledge of unswerving love for Olina had been most convincing to me, and I resolved to use a light touch in dismissing his question about Mary.

"Don't be silly," I admonished him. "There isn't going to be any taboo on Mary. You will be able to talk to her whenever you wish, although, with Noel in the offing, I should advise you not to overdo it. My husband simply forbade you to voice to Mary the ridiculous fancy which was haunting you."

"I shall want to see her only a minute or two," he said, and I saw with irritation that, for the moment, he had forgotten everything else in this unexpected chance to talk to Mary.

"You may be very sure," he went on, "that I shall say nothing to her to which you or your husband or Noel could object. I only wish to be sure that she has forgiven me for my atrocious rudeness when we last parted."

"When you tried to kiss her, and she boxed your ears?" I asked a bit brutally, "Why, I don't think there will be any difficulty about your seeing her alone for a few minutes. But I'll give you a word of advice, Georges. Don't waste your breath in apologies."

Consternation leaped into his eyes.

"You mean," he stammered, "that she will refuse her forgiveness to me?"

"I mean that once I have assured her you meant nothing compromising in your pleas for a letter from her, she will have nothing but mirthful remembrances of that farewell scene. She laughed heartily with us about it when she discovered that we had been involuntary witnesses to the episode. If I were you, I wouldn't risk her laughter again. I can tell you now, that aside from your writing those letters to the sanitarium, she bears you no ill will. Why not ignore that incident altogether, and chat with Mary when you see her, as you would with any other friend? That will be the best way to insure her kindly recollections of you."

But if he heard what I was saying, it was with sub-conscious mind. He had seized upon one sentence, and was repeating it, in parrot-fashion.

"She laughed at my farewell, she laughed at me!"

"Don't be an idiot," I snapped at him. "She did not laugh at your farewell. Indeed, I think she would have been quite touched by it, if you hadn't spoiled it, by that schoolboyish attempt to kiss her against her will. She laughed at that unroariously as any woman would have done who was not in love with you. If she had been in love with you," I finished practically, "she would have returned your kiss, instead of boxing your ears."

I turned away from him—neither of us had sat down again—and walked toward the house telephone.

"I'm going to give you a parting bit of unasked advice, Georges," I said. "You have told me, and I have no reason to doubt your word, that you love Olina deeply, and that you have no romantic affection for Mary. Then, for Heaven's sake, your own, and that of everybody else concerned, stop worrying about what Mary is thinking or feeling. That is no affair of yours. Just concentrate on Olina."

I pressed the button which sounded a ring in the library, where I was sure Dicky was stationed. And then, from unpredictable, volatile I heard a chuckle.

"That's good advice," he said. "I think I'll take it."

LEGION MEMBERS AT DISTRICT MEETING

Six from Bird-McGinnis Post at Conference.

Six members of Bird-McGinnis Post, No. 162, American Legion, represented the post at a Sixth district conference held Sunday in Pataskala, O., which was attended by approximately 300 Legionnaires. Those from here were John H. Moore, commander of the post, D. J. MacDonald, district vice commander, W. E. Orcutt, J. W. Llewellyn, Craig Rogers, Marion county commander, and J. Albert Dripps. Accompanying them were Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Dripps.

The conference was held in the new post headquarters of the Legion post of Pataskala. In the absence of the district commander, Tom Campbell of Mt. Gilead, D. J. MacDonald presided for the meeting. The morning session opened with selections by the drum and bugle corp of Newark Post No. 85, followed by a sermonette by Rev. Robert W. Wilson, chaplain of the district, and introduction of guests. Luncheon was served at noon by the members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the post.

Speaker for the afternoon session was Aaron J. Halloran of Springfield, department commander. He spoke on activities of the Legion of Ohio.

A highlight of the afternoon meeting was a report given by Marilyn Hitchcock of Newark, a sixth district winner in the state Legion essay contest, of the trip to Washington, D. C., which she won as a result of the contest. Mr. MacDonald talked on district membership, and Russell Tharp of Newark, district chairman in charge of Junior Baseball, introduced Phil Leestma, a representative of the Ford Motor Co., who showed a moving picture entitled "Play Ball, Son."

John Moore, as commander of Bird-McGinnis, was presented a citation for the post having more than 90 per cent of the membership quota. John V. Ruth, vice commander of the post in charge of membership, announced that his committee is promoting an extensive drive to reach 100 per cent by May 1.

An invitation to hold the annual Sixth district convention in Marion late in June extended by Mr. Moore in behalf of Bird-McGinnis Post, was accepted by the district. The date will be announced by Tom Campbell.

Spectacularly low death rates of under one per 1,000 were recorded for the United States in 1947 for ages 5 to 14 among white boys and 5 to 24 among white women.

Galion Salary Dispute Hinges on Residence

Special to The Star

GALION, April 20—A question of statutes is apparently holding up a decison by Common Pleas Judge C. U. Ahl of Crawford county, on the injunction action filed by John Drouth, Galion taxpayer, to prevent the city of Galion from paying the $600-a-month salary to Galion's service-safety director.

At the time the injunction request was heard by Judge Ahl on March 29, the question arose as to whether or not John F. Porter, named to the service-safety director post by Mayor H. H. Hartmann, was a resident of the city. City Solicitor George H. Davies based his answer on the statutes which set 30 days as the required time for a person to become a resident of the city, while Drouth and his counsel claimed that Porter's appointment was illegal because he was not a resident of the city. Drouth's attorney said that the new law, effective Jan. 2, 1948, requires 40 days as the time to become a resident of a locality.

Meanwhile the city is awaiting the judge's decision.

MIAMI, Fla., April 20—William Walter Carlton, 49, wants his marriage to Gratia Flower Carlton, 45, of Cincinnati, annulled.

HELICOPTER PROVES PLANTERS' FRIEND

By The United Press

CADIZ, O., April 20—The prosperous farmer of the future, the Ohio Reclamation association said today, may be the one who tends to his chores in a helicopter.

The strange-looking aircraft, a spokesman for the association said, proved its value recently by sowing sweet clover and blue grass on 1,000 acres of strip mine land owned by the Hanna Coal company at Cadiz.

Although only 15 hours of flying time were required to cover the 1,000 acres, rain and high wind stretched the job over a nine-day period. Officials who checked the experiment were surprised that the seeding showed such even distribution. They attributed this to the downbeat action of the rotor blades which held the seeds to a designated area.

A similar experiment may be held during the second Frontier day demonstration at Rio Grande college in September.

"The price of the helicopter undoubtedly would make it prohibitive for the individual farmer," said Larry Cook, director of the Ohio Reclamation association. "However, the speed and effectiveness of its operation leads us to believe that groups of farmers may find it advantageous to share a helicopter."

The association has pioneered in Ohio in the use of the airplane for crop seeding, being the first group in the state to use both the conventional type airplane and the helicopter.

Morris R. Blane, trustee in bankruptcy for the defendant, said Singleton's assets now total $93,506. A previous witness had testified claims against the dealer in almost-new cars have reached $837,981.

ARREST 5 DRIVERS ON TRAFFIC CHARGES

One Complaint Lodged After Accident.

One traffic accident and five traffic arrests were reported by police for the last 24 hours.

The lone accident occurred when police cruisermen pulled alongside a car driven by William B. Swartz, 21, of 26 Copeland avenue to order him to the curb to question him about crashing a red light at the intersection of Campbell and West Center streets.

Police report that upon coming abreast of Swartz and ordering him to the curb he complied with the order but in so doing collided with a parked car in front of 306 West Center street when faulty brakes failed to bring his car to a stop. Cruisermen placed him under arrest charged with insufficient brakes and his car was held as bond for his appearance in court this morning. He was fined $10 and costs upon entering a guilty plea.

At 5:03 p. m. yesterday Paul Driscoll, 34, of 364 North Greenwood street was arrested on North Main street on a charge of operating his car on a temporary driving permit. His car was held pending a hearing of his case this morning. He was fined $10 and costs upon entering a plea of guilty.

Three out of town drivers were arrested in six minutes on North Main street each charged with driving 40 miles an hour through a school zone. Each posted $25 bond for his appearance this morning. Those arrested were Harry Houghton, 65, of Detroit; Ernest Glenn Wasserbeck, 23, of near Prospect, and Faye Edelstein of Toledo. Houghton forfeited his bond by failing to appear for hearing, Wasserbeck pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $15 and costs by Judge Hazen. The Edelstein case was postponed until tomorrow morning at 10 a. m. by Judge Hazen.

He failed to answer the citation.

3 Speakers Address Group; Candidates Introduced.

An estimated 150 persons attended the covered dish "potluck" dinner of the Marion County Republican club at the Republican headquarters on East Center street last night.

Club President James C. Sloan was toastmaster and introduced a program of speeches and music.

Among the speakers were State Senator David A. Liggitt of Hardin county, K. Albert Kuntzman of DeGraff, and Common Pleas Judge Paul D. Smith, who spoke on "Election Laws."

A report of the recent meeting of the Republican Women of Ohio, held April 12-13 in Toledo at which U. S. Senator John W. Bricker was main speaker, was read by Mrs. Margaret Harder, local member of the Republican Women who attended the meeting.

A musical program was presented by Miss Donna Crabtree, soprano, accompanied by Mrs. Cecil Davis; and Marion Apple, who presented a medley of accordion selections. For an encore he played a second medley of requested numbers called from the audience.

County candidates were introduced at the close of the program and each spoke briefly.

The dinner was directed by a committee headed by Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Snyder.

The next meeting of the club will be held at Republican headquarters at 8 p. m. May 3.

OHIO RIVER FALLING TO NORMAL LEVELS

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 20—The Ohio river fell at an increasing rate today, leaving a high water mark of silt and small debris along its banks.

The U. S. weather bureau said it would drop to 61.5 feet today and 60 feet by tomorrow morning.

In Cincinnati preparations were being made to clean warehouses and other large buildings affected by the water. The water division said fire hydrants and fire hose would be made available. City police were returned to eight-hour shifts after serving 12-hour shifts during the emergency.

The sandbag dike at Newport was reported a success. Col. B. B. Talley of the Ohio River division engineers, said the flood protection work there had limited flood waters to about 10 per cent of the area that would usually have been affected by the 64.8 stage.

Maj. Gen. Douglas L. Weart of the Ohio River division estimated the proposed Falmouth, Ky., flood control reservoir would have reduced the Licking river flood stage at Newport by two feet.

In Kenton county, Ky., some 400 residents prepared to move into their homes. Health authorities warned flood victims to make certain houses were cleaned and dried before families moved in.

Hint Pacific Test Of New Atomic Weapon by U. S.

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter

WASHINGTON, April 20—The new test of "an atomic weapon" at this country's remote Pacific proving ground touched off fresh speculation today over what its nature might be.

There is little prospect, however, that the big question raised by the atomic energy commission's terse announcement will be answered soon.

Speculation has had it that guided missiles with atomic warheads might be studied at Eniwetok atoll. But there has been no official announcement that such an atomic missile has been developed.

There has, however, been evidence this country has been "improving" the atom bomb.

David Lilienthal, chairman of the atomic energy commisison, said so in a speech last February.

He told the Radio Executives club in New York:

"Even before it (the bomb) had been improved—and on the top of a mesa in the mountains of New Mexico we are improving it—the very first product at once affected the lives of every being on the globe."

LEWIS

strange" that the government had failed to mention Lewis' April 3 letter.

Hopkins charged "political motives" on the part of the government.

Remarks Ruled Out

Morison rose and objected. He said he didn't want to cut off Hopkins but "I won't stand for that sort of thing."

Goldsborough ruled Hopkins' remarks went "beyond the scope of an orderly argument." He ordered them stricken from the record.

Hopkins declared "that with all the power of compulsion" of government agents, "acting in roles of Gestapo at times, the government has been unable (he banged the table) to produce a scintilla of proof here!"

Goldsborough pointed out Hopkins had chosen not to make an argument on the merits of the case at the end of the trial last Thursday.

"You're making an argument now which should have been made prior to the court's action," the judge said.

Goldsborough told Hopkins "the court thinks the court answered yesterday every argument you have produced today."

"The court thinks you step aside seriously in making political accusations and not bringing in any evidence that has been presented to the court."

Goldsborough told Hopkins firmly to proceed but within the bounds he outlined.

Hopkins remarked "much additional might be said upon the subject," but he agreed to drop it.

Hopkins continued "they come here today with a recommendation for $1,400,000 as against the defendant union and $20,000 as against the defendant Lewis, and I say to them that they but fail to recognize the realities. * * *"

At that point, Hopkins said Lewis would not take the stand and say anything before the judge pronounced sentence.

MARION COUPLE HURT ENROUTE TO FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Schlientz in Kentucky Collision.

Mrs. Grace S. Schlientz is recovering from facial injuries suffered in an auto accident April 9, according to reports received from her by her husband, D. T. Schlientz of 258 Merchant avenue.

Mrs. Schlientz is in Bessemer, Ala., to which she, her husband and daughter, Gay Lee, were enroute to attend the funeral of her mother, Mrs. Otto Schwacha, on April 9 when the accident causing her injuries occurred.

They left Marion for Bessemer April 9 and were approaching Florence, Ky., when an approaching car driven by G. W. Harris of Rome, Ga., was forced out of his lane of traffic by another car, throwing his car into a collision with the Schlientz vehicle.

In the accident Mrs. Schlientz suffered numerous facial injuries and Schlientz suffered torn ligaments of the right knee. Both were hospitalized at St. Elizabeth's hospital in Covington, Ky., until the following evening when they resumed their journey by train from Cincinnati. They daughter, Gay Lee, who was sleeping in the back seat of the car at the time of the accident, escaped injury.

The Harris car was demolished, while damage to the Schlientz car is estimated at $1,000 by the Cincinnati garage now repairing it.

Mr. Schlientz returned to Marion following the funeral of Mrs. Schwacha. Mrs. Schlientz and Gay Lee remained in Bessemer. Mr. Schwacha is the owner of a machine shop in Bessemer which he is in process of selling preparatory to returning to Marion with Mrs. Schlientz to make his home here, Mr. Schlientz said.

ITALIAN ELECTION MAKES POPE HAPPY

By International News Service

VATICAN CITY, April 20—Pope Pius XII was elated today over the defeat handed Communist factions in Italy's national elections.

A small group of Americans privileged to see the pontiff in a private audience noted his supreme gratification that democratic forces had won victory.

The Pope made an important statement, expressing his views on the significance of the election results.

The statement which was made extemporaneously will be made public in written form within the next 48 hours.

When it is made public, the statement will be intended for the American people as a whole.

The correspondent was a member of the small group which was received by arrangement of Myron C. Taylor, special envoy of President Truman. Taylor personally introduced 17 of the Americans in the party.

The usually worried face of the Holy Father was relieved and beaming with smiles.

The spiritual leader of Catholicism, who exerted great moral influence in the election campaign, looked as though he felt the faithful had not been found wanting on Sunday and Monday.

When he spoke, the words flowed easily and happily in what one member of the American diplomatic mission to the Holy See said was the longest extemporaneous address he has made to such a group of visitors.

The audience lasted 35 minutes.

Scott will be paroled July 22 and Sherman May 20.

FARM BUREAU MAPS BENEFIT PROGRAM

Consider Joining Bloc To Further Agricultural Interests.

Organization of a farm bloc in which the Farm Bureau would participate with government agencies in furthering the interests of the farmers, was discussed at a meeting of the Marion county Farm Bureau board of directors here last night.

Cooperation of the several government services working with farmers and the Farm Bureau is being advocated to plan a unified legislative program to place before congress.

It was pointed out at the meeting that the Farm Bureau programs and those of the soil conservation associations, agricultural conservation association, Triple A, agricultural extension service and others work toward the same ends. With a unified program formulated through cooperation of the various agencies, it was felt that the interests of the farmers would be better served in Washington.

Legislation on which the several agencies are seeking action include bills covering soil fertility soil conservation, and strip mining.

V. F. Shroats, Farm Bureau manager for Marion county, indicated proposals of the Farm Bureau in the way of a combined legislative program will be up for action by the board of directors at the May 10 meeting.

Further Farm Bureau activity included a meeting of the 12 county District 2 at Ashland yesterday. Local representatives Lloyd Calhoun, county educational director, and Carl Seiter, board member, attended.

Members were polled on the extent of Farm Bureau contact with candidates for office this year in respect to their stand of farm questions. Also discussed was the membership campaign for new members.

Marion county with 763 new members this year to date stands among the first five in the district campaign and has exceeded its membership quota, it was reported. Last year's total membership was 661.

ITALY

general of the pro-Fascist Italian Socialist movement (MISI) predicted the Christian Democrats would get 300 of the 547 seats in the chamber.

Mixed official and unofficial tabulations of returns from 17,437 of Italy's 41,647 electoral sections (precincts) in the senatorial races gave:

Christian Democrats 3,339,286, Popular Front 2,088,928.

The Socialist Unity and Republican tickets combined got 730,853 votes in those precincts, making a total of 4,079,139 anti-Communist votes, approximately two to one.

Both the Republicans and Socialist Unity now are in the cabinet with the Christian Democrats. The Communists and their allies, the Pietro Nenni Socialists, have been excluded from it.

Emilio Taviani, vice secretary-general of the Christian Democratic party, said it appeared his Vatican-backed, middle-of-the-road party would have clearest control of parliament and added the results "exceeded our most optimistic expectations."

WARDEN AT ALCATRAZ QUITS, NEW ONE NAMED

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, April 20—Edwin B. Swope today was named warden of Alcatraz prison, the "Rock" in San Francisco bay.

The 59-year-old veteran jailer succeeds James A. Johnston who has been warden of the "big house" since it became a Federal penitentiary in 1934.

Now head of the federal correctional institution at Englewood, Colo., Swope takes over his new post April 30. His appointment was one of several announced here today by the justice department.

Johnston revealed his forthcoming retirement last night. His age—74—and his 15 years of federal service made his retirement mandatory.

Attorney General Tom C. Clark immediately appointed him assistant to Federal Prison Director James V. Bennett, with authority over Federal prisons on the west coast.

Clark also announced that Robert P. Hagerman, warden of the correctional institution at Ashland, Ky., would succeed Swope at Englewood.

TAFT AND STASSEN ON LAST LAP IN OHIO

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 20—Robert A. Taft and Harold E. Stassen kick the gas pedal tomorrow for the last lap of their race for 23 of Ohio's delegates to the Republican national convention.

Taft, Cincinnati Republican and Ohio's senior senator, will get 30 of the state's 53 delegates without a fight as favorite son candidate of the state Republican organization. Stassen, former Minnesota governor, is challenging for the rest.

Taft set speeches for 11 different northeastern and eastern industrial cities for Wednesday and Thursday. Stassen goes to southwestern Ohio tomorrow, then stumps through the northeastern corner the rest of the week, with a windup in Cleveland Saturday.

Taft, whose forces have admitted that Stassen's show of strength surprised them, plans to return from Washington again next week, the last before the May 4 primary election when the matter will be settled. Stassen already has beaten the Ohioan in Nebraska and Wisconsin primaries.

Taft's two-day swing includes Ashtabula, Jefferson, Warren, Niles, Youngstown, Salem, Lisbon, East Liverpool, Carrollton, Cadiz, and Steubenville. He is expected to return Tuesday or Wednesday next week, to wind up his campaign and go home to Cincinnati May 3.

Stassen is scheduled to fly to Dayton tomorrow, take in Middletown, then go to Toledo Thursday, Canton, and Akron Friday, and Toledo again Saturday. With that he will have spoken in eight of the 11 congressional districts in which he is challenging Taft. Observers thought he would come back next week for the last three.

SEIZE PINBALL MACHINES

NEW YORK, April 20 — More than 1,000 pinball machines and 1,285 summonses were the official tallies today in a citywide drive by police against the pinball game business.

SENATE OK ON HOUSING SEEN

Passage by Nightfall Expected by Co-sponsor Taft for Insured Loans Bill.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 20—Senate passage of the Taft-Ellender-Wagner long range housing bill by nightfall was predicted today by Sen. Taft (R-Ohio).

Taft made this forecast in telling reporters that differences between him and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) over the bill appear to be headed toward settlement.

"I think we will be able to work out a compromise," Taft said.

The Ohio senator is a co-sponsor of the T-E-W measure. Its backers hope it will encourage construction of 15,000,000 new homes by 1958.

The bill would extend through next March the government's authority to insure home loans. It would permit insurance of an additional $2,000,000,000 worth of such loans, including $400,000,000 authorized in a stopgap law.

The measure also provides for more liberal home loan terms on low cost housing, for guaranteeing investors in rental housing a profit, and for slum clearance.

Taft and McCarthy have been sharply at odds over amendments to the bill. McCarthy got 14 changes approved last week. Taft has a motion pending which would strike all of them and substitute a batch of senate banking committee amendments he is backing.

Taft said he is willing to accept two of four amendments which McCarthy says are the most important of his series. The Ohio senator added that he would go along on a third if it were altered some. Under the proposed compromise McCarthy would yield on his fourth major amendment and the rest of his series.

These are the McCarthy amendments which Taft said he would take:

1. A section under which the government would pay half the cost of homes for seriously paralyzed veterans — those who are permanent wheel chair cases.

2. A provision allowing the government to oust from public housing tenants who are earning more than the top salary specified as a condition of occupancy. This amount varies among housing projects.

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

THIS is the story of how to set up a big, new government agency in a hurry, or try to.

It's the story of ECA—Economic Cooperation Administration. It was set up to run the European Recovery Program.

To carry it out ECA will need a staff of about 1,000 people in this country and perhaps 1,000 abroad.

They'll be all kinds, from top businessmen and economic experts to stenographers and messengers.

James Marlow

To fill those 2,000 jobs ECA so far has received 15,000 applications. But, so far, almost no one has been hired.

ECA now has a staff of about 100 people borrowed from other government agencies. The hiring for the 2,000 jobs will begin later.

The European recovery program was approved by congress April 2, after 10 months of argument. On April 3 President Truman signed it into law.

On April 6 Mr. Truman picked Paul G. Hoffman, president of the Studebaker Corporation, to run ECA. On April 7 the senate okayed Hoffman.

Hoffman, with a brand new agency on his hands, had to start from scratch to build ECA.

He needed plenty of help from the White House and government agencies.

He started April 7, the day the senate approved him, with a staff of eight people. The White House had rounded them up from other agencies.

HIS OFFICES—five floors in a building so new it's still under construction—were chosen for him by the public buildings administration (PBA).

The five floors had no walls, offices or partitions. The PBA had to send in crews to build them, paint them, install telephones.

Hoffman borrowed from the Army, Navy and budget bureau men who specialize in office management, supplies, transportation.

From government surpluses they got swarms of desks, typewriters, and chairs, some of them very beat up.

They got the agriculture department to provide office supplies, like letter paper and carbons, with men to handle them.

THE GOVERNMENT PRINTING office will do ECA's mimeographing and printing. The Navy will supply drivers for ECA's cars and keep the cars oiled, gassed and repaired.

ECA will pay these other government agencies monthly for these goods and services.

Meanwhile, the White House ordered James H. Hard, director of personnel for the treasury, to help out at ECA.

He had to borrow about 100 people from other agencies, including messengers, stenographers and men who can interview people looking for jobs.

Job-seekers stand in lines outside Hard's offices. They're interviewed and their applications are kept on file.

AND HARD'S CREW has to sort, analyze and file the applications of those 15,000 people who have written in for jobs.

But why has almost no one yet been hired for ECA, since Hoffman hopes to fill his staff within 90 days?

For one thing, he still hasn't hired his two key men, a deputy administrator and a roving ambassador to check on the recovery program in Europe.

So far Hoffman has chosen only one top official, Dennis A. Fitzgerald, an outstanding food authority, to head ECA's food division.

But 24 other top men like Fitzgerald must be picked to head other ECA divisions, such as machinery and textiles, since machinery and textiles will be part of the help to Europe.

All these top officials must decide what kinds of staffs they'll need.

So, until some of these top men are chosen and start to work, hiring at ECA will have to wait.

$70,000,000 BUILDING PLAN OF OHIO MOVES

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O. April 20—Ohio moves full steam ahead today on its $70,000,000 building program.

The money was appropriated under the additions and betterment law enacted by the last legislature

Officials controlling the purse strings have been cautious about going ahead with the entire program They feared rising construction costs and thought it might be wise to wait for a drop in prices They also considered the possibility of another world war breaking out

But now they have decided to go ahead with the state's building program on the theory that (1) there won't be a war, and (2) construction costs will not come down for many years

The decision followed Gov Thomas J Herbert's conference with legislative leaders and state officials last week Present were State Sen Frank E Whittemore (R-Akron), president pro tem of the Ohio senate. State Senators Evert E Addison and Roscoe R Walcutt (R-Columbus) State Representatives Paul Ballard (R-Jackson) and Paul H McCormick (R-Huntsville) Public Works Director George B. Sowers and Finance Director Herbert D Defenbacher

Public Works Director Sowers reported to the governor the state now has $20,000,000 in construction work under way and $30,000,000 additional in the planning stage

"Precision already has been made for the basic projects," Sowers said today "Before the end of the year we hope to have every project in the program under way."

LAND BOOM LEVEL AT '20 BURST POINT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 20—The war born farm land boom has reached the dizzy heights at which the last one exploded to bring tragedy to thousands of farmers.

The Agriculture department reported today farm land values on March 1 had climbed to the record of March, 1920—a level that collapsed shortly thereafter.

Sparking the current boom, the department said, is the continued high farm product prices and record farm income.

Whether the present boom might collapse like the earlier one, the department did not try to forecast. The sharp break in land prices in 1920 followed a steep decline in foreign buying of American food.

Officials said there are no signs now of any big drop in foreign demand. In fact, the multi-billion-dollar European recovery program is expected to maintain a good foreign farm product market for another year or more.

Land values now average slightly more than twice those of the 1935-39 period. They gained an average of 6.8 per cent during the past year.

The largest increases were reported in the wheat and range-livestock areas, where farm incomes have been unusually high since 1941. North Dakota had the largest 1947 increase—20 per cent. Advances of more than 16 per cent were reported for South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas.

Only three states — Florida, Louisiana and California—reported lower average values than a year ago. Lower prices for citrus and other fruits were said to have had a depressing effect on land values in Florida and California.

HURLS ANTI-AMERICA CHARGE AT CHURCHES

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 20—An "anti-American" charge was hurled at the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America last night by Rev. W. O. H. Garman, president of the American Council of Churches.

At Cincinnati, Charles P. Taft, federal council president, retorted that the American council's "principal claims to publicity are its constant attacks on the Federal council and the great Protestant denominations that make it up."

Taft described the American council as "a small fundamentalist group." The American council claims a national membership of more than 1,250,000.

Rev. Garman spoke last night at his organization's two-day state meeting. He said the Federal council was "definitely anti-American."

"When we say the Federal council is anti-American," he added, "we mean to infer that many of its leaders are opposed to our American form of government and free economy and, more serious yet, that they are engaged in subversive activities which jeopardize our nation's very life."

Garman laid part of the blame for United States unpreparedness at Pearl Harbor on the Federal council, and claimed the Taft group advocated a peace strike during the last war "until Russia was attacked."

"Most of his statements," Taft said, "are totally false, especially as to the peace strike and subversive acts, and have been answered in detail so many times I do not care to do so again."

AT COLUMBUS MEETING

Mrs. Mildred Pickeral, senior regent of the Women of the Moose, was a guest when Columbus chapter observed the thirty-first anniversary of its founding Sunday. A class of candidates was initiated and there was a banquet in celebration of the event. A program was presented by the homemaker group. Akron Bus Strike Appears Settled

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., April 20—With a fare increase granted, a quick settlement of the city's 20-day bus strike today again appeared possible.

The new fare schedule will raise the price of tokens from four to three for 25 cents and add 25 cents to weekly passes now selling for $1.00 and $1.25.

The boost—agreed on last night by city officials and the Akron Transportation company—apparently paved the way for a wage hike.

Striking members of the CIO-transport workers have been seeking a 30-cent hourly pay increase, but the ATC said fares first would have to be raised.

Following the fare agreement, representatives of the 450 drivers met with ATC officials for more than four hours without reaching an agreement.

Convicted Hollywood Writer Plans Appeal

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 20 — Hollywood Writer John Howard Lawson today planned an appeal from his conviction on contempt of congress charges.

A federal court jury took two hours and 15 minutes to reach its verdict late yesterday.

The jury found the 53-year-old author of such films as "Smash-up" and "Blockade" guilty of contempt for refusing to tell the house committee on un-American activities last October if he was a communist.

NEW YORK, April 20—Railroad stocks led the market irregularly higher today.

Although a number of industrials joined the extension of Monday's late upswing, the list was dotted with a good scattering of minus signs. Early dealings maintained a lively pace, with some large blocks changing hands. Nearly midday narrow advances were somewhat in the majority.

Touching new 1948 highs were Union Pacific, New York Central, Pennsylvania Railroad, Southern Railway, Plymouth Oil and Pacific Western Oil. Others ahead at times included Dow Chemical, Schenley, Montgomery Ward, American Can, Anaconda Copper, International Telephone and Johns-Manville. Lagging were Goodrich, Bethlehem, United Aircraft, Deere and Twentieth Century Fox.

A's Take Twin Bill from Bosox; Yanks, Redlegs, Triumph in Major League Open

Majors Get Into Full Swing Today; Indians Open at Home with Browns

By The Associated Press

Joe McCarthy is back in baseball today—but please, mister, don't remind him.

The former manager of the New York Yankees still doesn't know what hit him in yesterday's American league opener—his first day back since he went into his well-improved exile a year and a half ago.

Old Connie Mack brought his spotted Philadelphia Athletics to Boston for a Patriots day morning-afternoon double header with current McCarthy boss with a "Show me you, Joe!" form primed to rap McCarthy's Red Sox apart with a double-shellacked 5-4 and 6-3 triumph.

Mack used two World War II vets—pitchers Phil Marchildon and Lou Brissie—to lead the attack.

Marchildon, shot down by the Germans while he was flying for the Canadian Air Force, and held a prisoner for nearly a year, opened with his first appearance in two years. Brissie, for whom doctors once gave up hope after his left leg was nearly torn off by German shrapnel, finished Red Sox sluggers in four hits to win the afternoon tilt.

Two Other Openers

There were two other openers yesterday—one in each league—and they ran true to form. The world champion New York Yankees spoiled Washington's annual inaugural by knocking the stuffing out of the Senators, 10-4, behind a 5-hitter. President Harry Truman, part of a 31,725 turnout, was on hand to throw out the first ball. The way things went for the Nats, he might as well have thrown the others, too.

Even an eighth-inning two-for-all parade failed to ruffle the calm of Lucky Ewell Blackwell, Cincinnati's splendid right-hander who fashioned a neat seven-hitter in pitching the Reds to a 6-2 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates in Cincinnati. A crowd of 29,167 witnessed the custom.

The majors got into full swing this afternoon with all other clubs making debuts in the National league Brooklyn is at New York, Boston at Philadelphia, Cincinnati at St. Louis and Chicago at Pittsburgh. The American league has St. Louis at Cleveland, Detroit at Chicago and New York at Washington with Philadelphia and Boston idle.

Boston's unique twin-bill, which began with bright sunshine and ended in a drizzle, drew 17,416 for the morning game and 20,078 for the finale.

Marchildon, winner of 19 games last season, survived a harrowing second inning in which he was slugged for three successive home runs. First baseman Stan Spence, shortstop Vern Stephens and pinch-hitter Bobby Doerr did the damage.

After drawing abreast with a run in the fifth and two more in the eighth off starter Joe Dobson, the A's tallied two in the top of the 11th. Buddy Rosar doubled, Eddie Joost singled and Don White filed out to account for the run.

Brissie, the 23-year-old rookie southpaw, helped win his own game with a two-run single in the fourth inning. He walked only one and struck out seven.

Doc of Boston's dour lads was Brissie to the hospital. The hit, a vicious drive by Ted Williams in the ninth, smashed off Brissie's head leg, so that active his pre-lecture pitcher's career. The Athenian, S. C., native fell in agony, but gamely continued after several minutes of rest. As a precautionary measure he was sent to a hospital after the game for X-rays.

Exploding seven runs in the first inning, Cleveland's home runs by Tommy Heenan and pitcher Allie Reynolds, the Yankees clinched their victory only minutes after the start.

New Tribe Outfield To Start Today

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 21 — The Cleveland Indians today open their 28th season with the second consecutive opening tilt with the St. Louis Browns—the "go" 'n' boys" of the American league.

Tribe President "Bucketo" Bill Veeck was slated to add the usual circus touch to the Cleveland baseball scene with a "ladies' pulpert" for married mothers and a pals flag-raising program as a send-off for Lou Boudreau in his seventh year as the Indians' manager. A crowd of 46,000 was anticipated.

Cleveland's long-suffering fans hoped none of the clowns in Veeck's circus would be in uniform as the Tribe battles for a 1948 team to end the pennant famine reaching back to 1920.

Boudreau swept all his 1947 outfield worries into one salvo by surrounding a considerably revamped garden patrol for the opening game.

The trio which will carry much of the Indians' pennant prestige includes left-fielder Allie Clark, obtained from the New York Yankees; center-fielder Thurman Tucker, the ex-Chicago White Sox performer who looks like Joe E. Brown, and Larry Doby, the speedy Negro youth who sparkled in spring training.

Boudreau's choice of Bob Feller as opening day pitcher was no surprise to Tribe followers, who have seen the ace fireballer turn in his superior inaugural mound performances for the past several years. Right-hander Fred Sanford, former Toledo Mud Hen hurler, was slated to toil for the Browns.

2nd Amateur Boxing Show To Be Held Tomorrow Night

The second in a series of amateur bouts staged promptly by the Marion Association of Trainers will be held at the armory tomorrow night.

Bill Cooney of Mansfield will substitute for Orlando Carberra in a setup with Pete Sigua, finalist in the Columbus Golden Gloves tournament, and Johnny Chambers of Marion will go 6 round and round with Gene Ayers of Mansfield in the 126 pound class. Buck Rogers of Marion and Buddy Dean of Columbus will weather it as an addition to the card, making a total of at least 12 fights.

Tomorrow night's fights show every indication of being by far the best program arranged here. On the card are Lawrence Strahm of Carey, undefeated in his weight in this area vs. Don McClure, Columbus YMCA champ; Joe Neidig, lightweight champ in these parts vs. Virgil Wharton, Y champ of Columbus; Jack Seckinger, top welterweight in the Marion stable of fighters vs. Ray Bolts, tops in the same class of the Columbus Y; and Ernest Humphries, Columbus service ex, seventh operating Gene James, local service.

In addition to that list, Ernie Arcuri, winner of five fights, but twice loser to Charlie Farina of Galion on close decisions in the middleweight division will meet Don Rosenbaker heavyweight Tustin Waite of Marion will take the ring Bill Henderson of Delaware in a question mark affair. Sid Kadmus of Galion, unproven champ of this year's GG vs. Herb Wilson of Delaware, last year's GG champ in the heavy class and a newcomer, Mark Wimble of Bellaire against Richard Stout of Delaware.

The association has established a definite judging system that will be used in Wednesday's fights, and for all future fights, to eliminate mistakes of judgment. A regular point system will be put into effect with 10 points being the maximum a fighter can acquire in one round, the boxer with the greatest number of points after three rounds will be declared the winner.

Judges will come from three separate localities. Dan Mannimore will be the head arbitrator. Dallas Turner of Harry Hart of Delaware will make number two and a third will come from Mansfield. Bantling will begin at 8.

IF HISTORY REPEATS LOOK OUT FOR REDS

Whip Boss, 4-1, Despite 8th Inning Rhubarb.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 20—If it's true that history repeats, look out for those rollicking Reds of Cincinnati.

Back in 1919 the Redlegs humiliated the National loop champs a day ahead of the other clubs, with the Pittsburgh Pirates as the foe. The Reds went on to win the pennant—their first in 28 years.

Yesterday, for the second time in history, the Reds opened a day early. Again the Pirates were the foe—and the victim.

With Ewell Blackwell, last year's No. 1 major loop pitcher, handcuffing the Buccaneers with seven hits and whipping his fast one past 'em in the pinches, the Cincinnati club won 6 to 2.

Practically a whole season of thrills and pomp and ceremony were wrapped up in the inaugural viewed by 29,167 fans.

Maybe it's just as well that the Reds departed for St. Louis and a three game series. The tension was pretty high at the finish.

The big blowup came in the eighth after Hank Sauer, the big left fielder who hit 37 home runs for Syracuse last season, bumped one over the left field fence with Grady Hatton aboard, to put the Reds out front 4 to 1.

Dain Young followed with a double, and as the ball rolled around right field he went into second standing up. Above eight feet from the bag he crashed into shortstop Stan Rojek—and both went down.

Without calling time, Young jumped up the bag grabbed Rojek, and the fight was on. Players from both teams were around them in a second. So were photographers and umpires. Relief pitcher Vic Lombardi relieved Dixie Walker's throw from right and nipped Young out, adding to the confusion.

Then the umpires ordered the photographers off the field, and one picture-taker was pushed around more than somewhat. A fan jumped from the stands to aid him, scuffling with umpire Jocko Conlan. Umpire Barnes Emerson stepped in, refereeing no mark, but missed.

The police then took over, but too late to keep the right field bleacher fans from showering the groundward with bottles and many other missiles. There was called, the field cleared up, and play resumed.

Saggy's Poor Showing Blamed on Lameness

By The United Press

CAMDEN, N. J., April 20—Saggy's out-of-the-money finish behind Citation in the Chesapeake Stakes was blamed by his trainer on lameness today, and there were strong indications that Mrs. Stanley Sagner's chestnut colt was out of the Kentucky Derby.

At the same time, Dr. Almar and Bovard were scratched from the list of potential starters in the run for the roses at Louisville May 3.

Trainer L. F. Orfe said that a definite case of lameness has developed in Saggy's knee. The horse had the same trouble as a two-year-old.

Saggy had handed Citation an upset lasting in the Chesapeake Trial at Havre de Grace last Monday, but in the big race Saturday Mrs. Sagner's hopeful wound up fourth in the four-horse race.

Cubs Have Candidates Three Deep in Infield

Candidates three deep for every infield position serve first base. That's the picture of the Marion Cubs at the present time.

First base appears to be the man, Ray Gernert of Chicago, who is six feet, four inches tall and well filled out but slow in action.

There's plenty of competition for the other three infield positions though, and it might turn out to be a tough job to pick the best men for the jobs.

Bill Bollander of Phillipsburg, O., George Benson of Garey, Ind., and Ernesto Burns of LaGrange, Ill., all seek the second base job.

Bill Bolton of Cambridge, Mass., and two Ohio boys, Kenneth Ostrander of Belleville and Louis Ostrowski of Bellevue, are trying out for third.

Shortstop aspirants are Dale Schmidt of Decatur, Ind., Tom Keeley of South Lebanon, O., and Wes Peters of Saginaw, Mich.

Top Hitters

Bolton and Bollander have been the club's top hitters in practice to date. Both are good ball hitters.

In a practice game Friday third baseman Bolton rapped out a triple, two doubles and a single in seven trips and Sunday he got three for seven including a homer over the left field fence.

Bollander got two for four Friday and six for six Sunday, including a homer and four doubles.

Both these boys signed Cub contracts last year. But while Bollander appeared in a game or two as a pinch hitter late in the season last year after coming to the Cubs from a summer in the Mansfield baseball wilderness, Bolton was here but one day at the start of the spring training camp, going back home because of the illness of his mother. He played for Fayetteville in 1946. Both are good boys to start with the Cubs this year, though Bollander may play in the outfield.

Both the other two second baseman, Benson and Burns showed batting ability in the practice games, as did the third baseman Ostrander and Catherman.

Benson and Burns are graduates from high school last June and have played high school and semi-pro baseball. Burns, a graduate of Battle Ground Academy, Tenn., is six inch under six feet and weighs 168. Benson stands five-seven and weighs 155.

Oldest Infielder

Twenty-two-year-old Lou Catherman is the oldest of the infielders. After graduating from Bellevue High he entered Bowling Green university but was called into the Army before completing a semester there. He spent two years with the Engineers. He plans to enter Notre Dame in the fall.

Kenny Ostrander is an engineering student at Toledo university during the winter. When first signed he didn't expect to report to the Cubs until June when his year's studies at Toledo would be over, but later he decided to come for the training session. He graduated from Toledo DeVilbiss High school and attended the Mansfield baseball school last summer.

2 New Men Join Marion Cubs Today

Two new infielders-outfielders joined the Marion Cubs today, coming here from Fayetteville, N. C., where they have been in spring training.

They are Charles A. Barben, 21, of Falmouth, Mass., and Bob Allen, 21, of Harrod, Ky.

Both can play the outfield but prefer infield positions. Both bat and throw right.

OPEN LETTER TO MY OWNER

I am a 1940 automobile. My paint doesn't glisten. My fenders have holes that show my smooth and road-worn tires (embarrasses me). My motor knocks and I am so full of carbon that I can hardly struggle up a slight grade. My clutch is grabby and my transmission rattles. My drive shaft and differential have noises that give fair warning that trouble will soon be developing in that section of my anatomy. (Man I need attention) yet every day I am expected to take an overdose of that vile tasting gasoline—chew it up and mix it with a weak spark and spit out what I don't need, through my rusty leaking exhaust pipe. Last evening I refused to stand this neglect any longer and I stubbornly refused to start. If you don't take me down to that fine motor and body clinic at Midtown Chevrolet's Service Department, I will just giveup and refuse to run permanently.

Sincerely,
Your Faithful Car.

P. S. I have heard from the other cars in the Parking Lot that all of them plan to start acting up if, they are not taken to Midtown Chevrolet Service and Body Shop for skilled attention.

HA-HA! SOMEBODY MIXED MY NAME UP AND MADE MARK BRENT OUT OF CLARK KENT. WHAT A DISAPPOINTMENT FOR THOSE OGIES! HA-HA!

FOR THE LOVIN PETE, MISTER! I'D SWEAR I HEARD YOU SAY THIS CROSS BETWEEN A KEWPIE DOLL AND AN OCTOPUS IS A PHONY!
QUITE SO, MR. CHARLES...
...TO THE UNTRAINED EYE IT WOULD SEEM A VALUABLE BIT OF ANTIQUE ORIENTAL JADE... HOWEVER, THE EXPERT SHOULD RECOGNIZE THAT MODERN TOOLS HAVE BEEN USED... THE WORKMANSHIP IS QUITE INFERIOR...
...AND BESIDES—I BUILT THE BLOOMIN' THING, MYSELF!... AH! I DO BELIEVE YOUR ROOMS ARE READY.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

By AP Newsfeatures

HAROLD LLOYD, born April 20, 1893 in Burchard, Neb., set a nation's movie fans roaring with laughter as the scatter-brain dupe in the horn-rimmed spectacles who was always getting into trouble — and getting out again.

He went to Hollywood as an extra. Eventually he organized his own company and produced and starred in such hits as "The Freshman" and "Girl Shy."

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

It is admitted that money appropriated to aid Turkey was diverted into the Turkeyless Thursday campaign . . . A word to the Greeks is sufficient.

* * *

If they haven't got their full quota of funds the money for Greece probably went into fat salvage.

* * *

Incidentally, price of shortening has gone up . . . This will go hard with Nelson Eddy.

* * *

Mr. Eddy now sings "Shortin' Bread" only by request . . . If he can bake it the same way he's got a new career.

* * *

Anyhow, we now hold more gold than any other nation and have less use for it than most.

* * *

The objective is to get it all . . . At which time the other nations of the world will meet and decide that from thence—forward they will value gold on a par with radishes.

That will be the year we'll be short of radishes.
